"Where did you say L01 was?" "I can't open my locker." Many questions echoed through the halls as the students returned to Plant City High. The first weeks of school are total confusion for most students, as they try to find their rooms and chat with their friends. A new year always brings new faces and many changes. One of the many changes was the change over of many students classes. But as usual the new faces became familiar and the changes were successful.

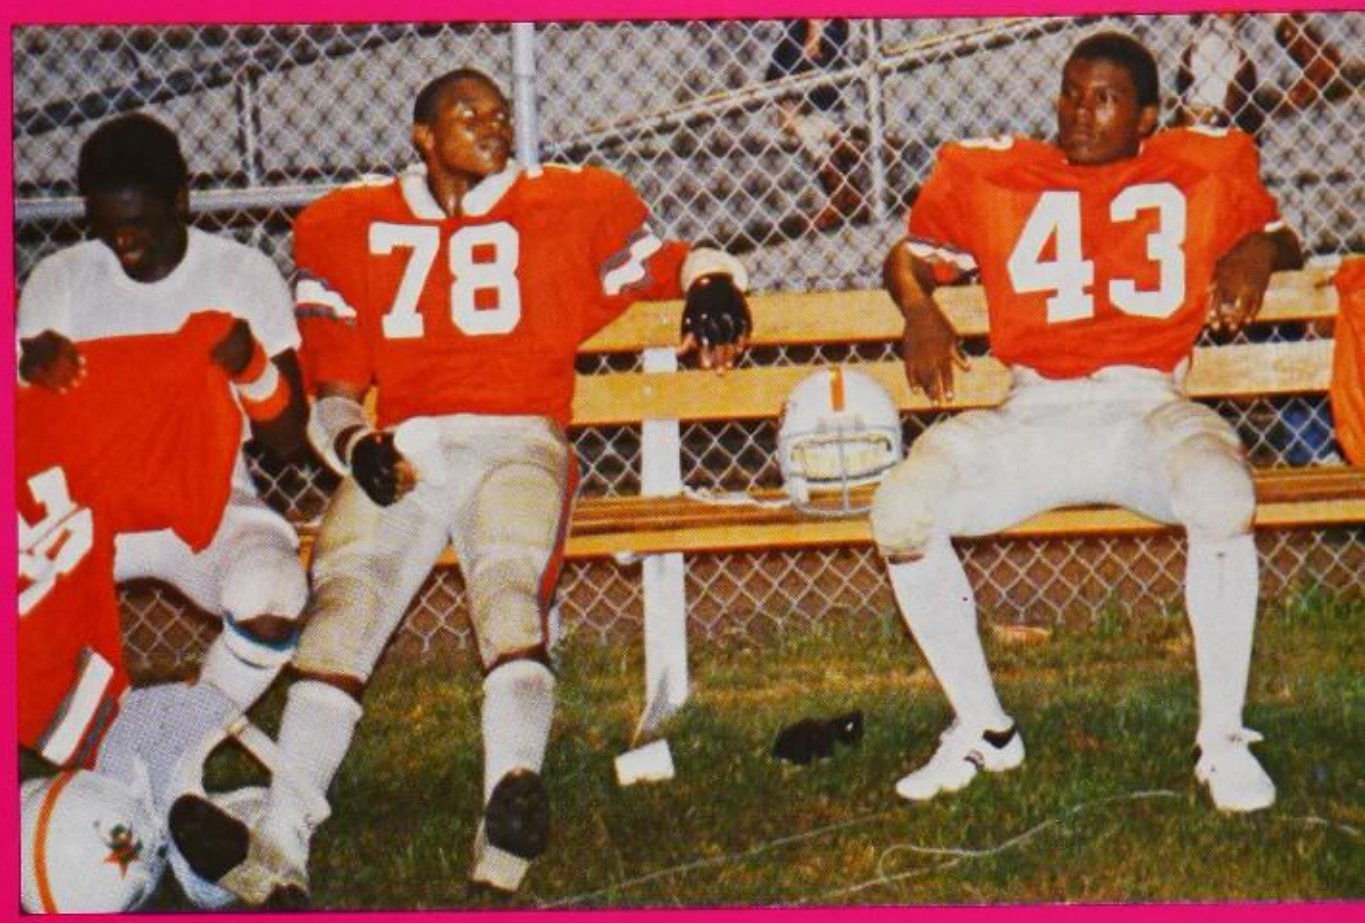
RAIDERMANIA



At sidelines, Suarez Worth, Gerald Darden and Tee Demps prepare for the second half of the game.

Raidermania: Fundamentally, it was not a question of "who had spirit". It was obvious Raiders had spirit by the pep and enthusiasm exemplified in the pep rallies, spirit days, and the anticipation of extracurricular, as well as, athletic activities that contributed to that powerful factor — RAIDERMANIA. "So, when you see a Raider coming, you'd better step aside, because a lot of people didn't and a lot of people died. Love it, hate it, but you can't ignore it." — Raider Cheerleaders

Plant City is a town with many beautiful old houses and stately churches.

PLANT CITY BETTER PLACE

Plant City High School can look beautiful from the right angle.

Through the years Plant City has grown and matured into the beautiful city it is today. With all the friendly people and growing businesses, Plant City has retained the beauty of its historical past. Many buildings in Plant City are reminders of this historical past such as the 1914 Plant City High School and the old train depot. Plant City's central Florida location makes it a favorite town for winter tourists. There are many different tourist attractions within a short drive. One right here in town is the annual Strawberry Festival held in February and March. It's a world famous festival, and each year draws record numbers of tourists to Plant City.

A LOT GOES ON AT PCHS

Fayeshawn Davis and friends put last touches on their garments.

Little School, Auto Mechanics, and Cosmetology classes are a few of the many activities that students are involved in at PCHS.

Among the twenty-six hundred people attending this school, there are over fortyeight different clubs, activities, and sports that a student can be a part of — there are sign paintings, sewing projects, and welding classes to name a few.

With all of this going on around us, there should be no room in a Raider's life for boredom. So, the next time you see someone walking around the top of your locker just say to yourself, "A lot really does go on at Plant City High!"

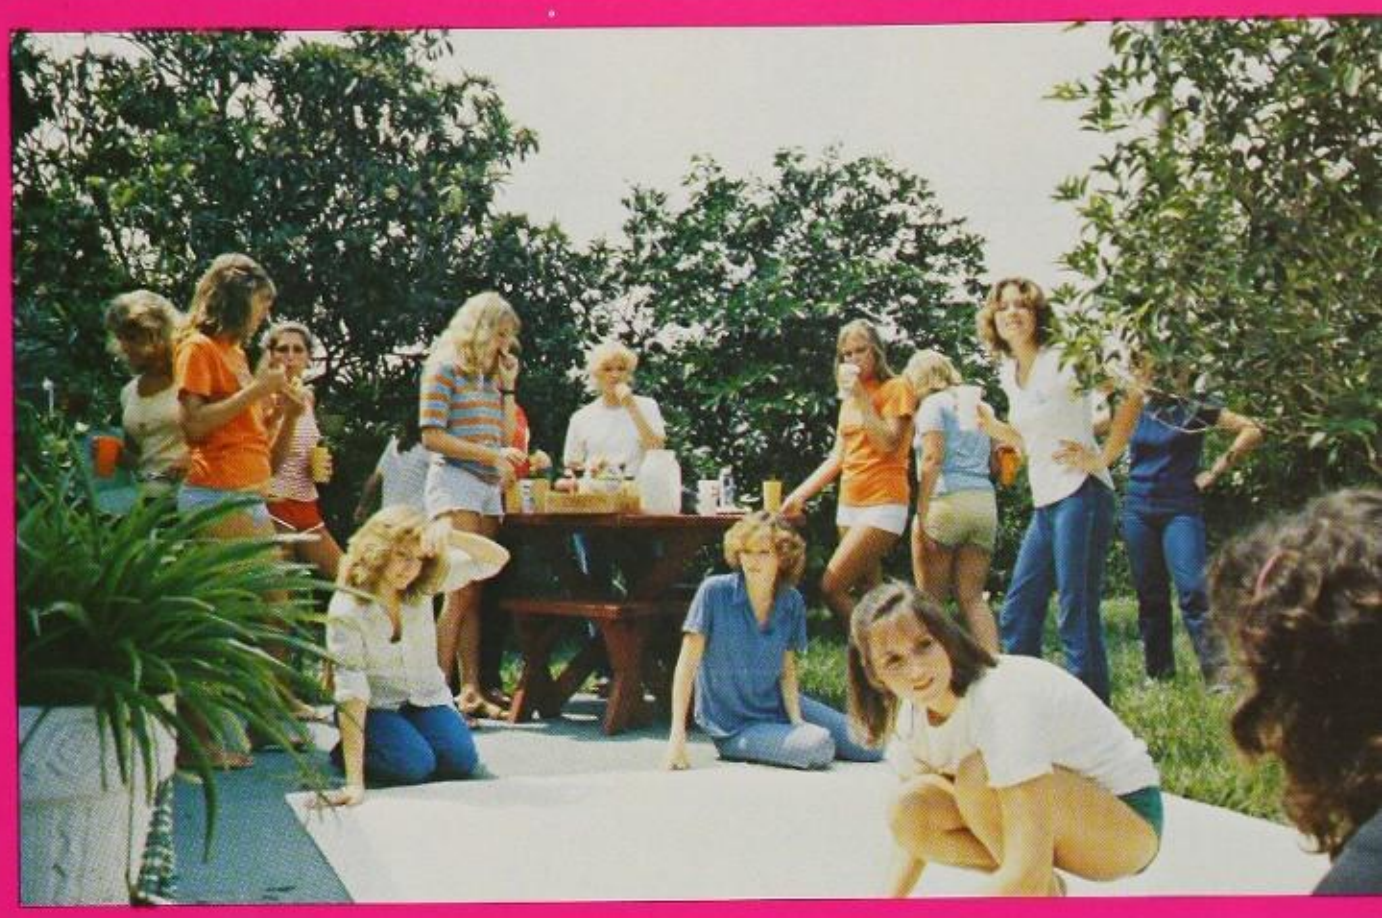
IT'S NOT ALL IN A DAY!



Lionettes combine fun and work at a member's home to paint a spirit sign.

As the minutes tick away and 1:45 waxes nearer, students anxiously await dismissal. The bell rings and minutes later buses pull away, and those who drive crowd around their friends in the parking lot to discuss weekend events.

Halls and rooms may seem desolate, but upon closer inspection, noise and bustle is heard. Teachers type tests and worksheets and constantly plan and replan curriculum. As one walks out into the mall, cheerleaders' chants fill the hall, or laughter is heard as a Plant City service club is meeting to paint signs. A step outdoors finds football players working hard or the band perfecting a marching routine. Later in the evening, all the work, tension, and practicing is released at a football game. Teachers mingle with students, club members show up trying to outscream each other, cheerleaders cheer in perfect unison, the band plays, and the flag corp dances. All is for one cause. . . . . .to cheer on the "MIGHTY RAIDERS."

"Look at our rainbow!"

"This year has been the best year for the flag corps at PCHS since I have been here. I have had more cooperation and most of all dedication. I believe the corps can only improve from here," remarks sponsor Linda Norton.

Pride and skill are just a few of the many requirements it takes to develop a successful squad.

In August the guard proudly marched onto the field of Tampa Stadium to perform a fantastic pre-game and halftime show as the Bucs faced the New England Patriots.

They added much enthusiasm to the crowds throughout their performances. To help raise money for the band, they took part in a fund raising project, and also sold ads to support the football program.

They marched at FBA, Pride of Kathleen, Strawberry Festival Parade, Christmas Parade, and other competitions such as Solo & Ensemble.

They held pizza parties, Christmas parties, end of the year parties, and the annual spring banquet.

BAND ON . . .

This summer as band members practiced their drills over and over again, they never thought it would amount to anything. But, after they were announced and proudly marched onto the field on August 15, 1981, to perform their first halftime show at the Tampa Bay Buccaneers game, they knew that their hard work and determination had paid off. It also paid off once again at the Florida Band Association Marching Contest held annually at Chamberlin High School. They brought back with them excellent markings and even more pride in the Plant City Raider Marching Band. They also showed their pride by marching in Christmas and Strawberry Festival Parades, out of town parades and other contests. The Band also performed at all varsity football games and at all pep rallies. When band director Mr. Kenneth Norton was asked his opinion of this year's band, his understatement was, "It's a good band."

The PCHS dancers deserve special thanks and praise. These fifteen girls have spent most of their school year practicing and performing many wonderfully entertaining halftime shows. Along with regular practices, the girls spent a lot of after school time and Saturdays preparing for football games, contests, and one special event, a Tampa Bay Bucs game. The new year began with a new name and new uniforms, the RAIDERETTES gave a classy appearance and a touch of style to the band.

Tonya Green, Crissi Chapman, Kim Morrell, Holly Willis, Tina Garrett, Debbie Watkins and P.D. Baskin.

Recognized as Plant City High School's "academic elite," National Honor Society members experienced an industrious year packed with learning, challenging adventures, and fond memories. Chosen on the criteria of scholarship, leadership, service and character, eighteen returning members and several new inductees comprised the organization in 1982. The two prominent advisors, Dick Evans and Ralph Aversa, tried to keep up with the diligent students by contributing some wit and their fun-loving natures.

The group spotlighted several activities. The NHS tutorial program, designed to provide students who have problems in their academic subjects with the help they need, topped the list and remained a successful project. Brain Brawl competition, the induction of qualifying juniors into the National Honor Society, and representation at the NHS Convention represented activities that proved worthwhile for these select and keen "educational zealots."

This night was a touch of class filled with many beautiful memories, especially for Susan Outen as she was crowned Homecoming Queen. All of the finalists competing for the title were very beautiful, but one lucky girl stood out in the crowd.

In her sophomore and junior years, Susan was actively involved in many clubs and organizations. Susan is a Senior this year and was chosen as Senior Class Vice President, and she was also chosen as secretary of Student Senate. Susan is a Hospitality Girl, Interact Club Sweetheart, and Calendar Girl for the month of January. She is also a member of Civinettes.

Friends congratulate Susan.

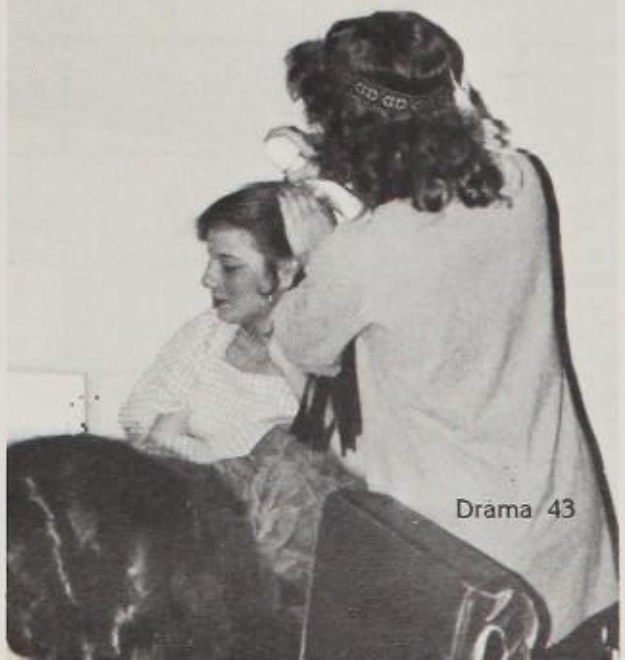
This year the Drama Club pooled efforts with other members of the humanities department to produce "Godspell". Godspell, a two-act musical based on the book of Matthew, was a tremendous success. The play gave the Drama Club and chorus members an opportunity to demonstrate their acting and singing abilities. A few band members displayed their talents by accompanying the performers, and the art club members donated their talents by painting the scenery. The play was termed the "best show done at the school in years" and received standing ovations for both performances. This show was a brilliant success thanks to director David Graves and producer Marilyn Balliet and members of crew and cast.

Valerie Gude and Cathy Fike get ready for opening night.



VARSITY

We're on every team,
we're part of each play.
When the team takes the field,
on the sidelines we stay
A touchdown or slam dunk
we'll never record.
We can't make a tackle,
not a point have we scored
Spirit's our business,
and we do our job well
We scream for each score,
we lead every yell
Our bodies may tire,
our throats' become dry
But our team's always cheering, for Plant City High.

And we all jumped with glee!
At practice we work hard
And sometimes we play;
But for all of our efforts,
On the sidelines we stay.
Though this year's been fun,
And the teams were so fine —
Next year will be Varsity —
Then watch us shine!!

These 30 students were chosen by their peers from the list of teacher nominations. Every student elected has been actively involved in several different clubs and organizations and has contributed much to his school and fellow classmates.

The Student Senate of PCHS played an integral part in the way our school was run. Student Senate members supervise all elections and count votes. They plan Homecoming and buy the crown, trophies, and roses for the court. The Homecoming sign contest was sponsored by the Student Senate.

They oversee all clubs and organizations and work closely with the Inter-Club Council in regard to budgets, fund raisers, and club projects. Student Senate also sponsored the Deck the Halls Contest and decorated the Christmas Tree in the mall. At Festival time the Student Senate members built a booth to represent the school.

Our Student Senate belongs to the District IV Student Council Workshop Assocation and regularly attends workshops to exchange ideas with other schools and learn leadership techniques.

GIRL'S VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Lady Raiders girls' varsity basketball team struggled through their first season under new Coach Carol Renfroe. The girls demonstrated a quickness and aggressiveness all through the season.

Although they sometimes found themselves the losers, they acted as winners for they always showed the best of sportsmanship. The Lady Raiders stayed in competition during the games with the "old pros" seniors, Carla Sanders and Pam Williams.

The long drills paid off in performances in the games. Coach Carol Renfroe has done an outstanding job preparing the varsity squad.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Who said Raider Varsity couldn't defeat the 3rd ranked Plant Panthers?

Fate seemed to have the Raiders doomed for the beginning of the season, but with a 27-21 upset over the Panthers, Raiders proved fate wrong.

Special recognition went tc Remi F. Watson, who led the county in pass receiving. The talent rich Raiders produced many outstanding all-conference players who helped make the Raiders number one.

The 1981-82 J.V. football team, with new players and new coaches, kicked off the season with a thrilling victory over Tampa Bay Tech. CROSS COUNTRY

What is Cross Country, Running? Most people thought Cross Country was simply running on track or just through grassed paths. Little do most people know, the Raider Cross Country team participated in meets that required running through creeks, striding over hills, in mud and through the woods.

Running Cross Country required strenuous daily physical regimen of exercise and much practice. Cross Country runner, Salwyn Parker, broke the school record of 16.25 time with a time of 16.23.

Besides running, Salwyn Parker thinks about his academic grades.

WRESTLING

With only a few experienced wrestlers and a new head coach, the Raiders had a lot of work ahead of them. Head coach Lee Chandler and coach Tim Knighten had to prepare many first year wrestlers for competition. Knighten stated, "The farther we get into the season, the better we'll get. We have mostly young sophomores, but with more experience we'll be tough to beat." Co-captains this year were Eddie Tanner, David Ferrier, Larry Porter, and Jack Moore.

"Coaching, not all fun and games." That was a remark that came from many of our coaches. The coaches had to put a lot of hard working hours into the years sports. Most of the coaches agree that the school would not have been the same without the sports program. The sports brought in an extra activity for many of the students, who were capable and wanted to participate. Let's just hope that in the years to come our coaches can coach the players as well as our present staff.

MATH

The Plant City chapter of Mu Alpha Theta is a mathematics honors club consisting of students enrolled in advanced math courses. The club is designed to broaden the students' interests and proficiency in math. Each year selected students participate in various math competitions. Last summer, four members of our school, two graduates and two seniors, represented the Plant City chapter at the National Math Competition in Los Angeles, California. The math club also shows that math isn't all work; it can be fun too.

Voted the most active Service Club at Plant City High School last year, the Lionettes started this year with their annual sign paintings to support their mighty Raider football players. They helped their "Father Club", the Lions, sell light bulbs, brooms, mops and color books in order to provide valuable services greatly needed by the blind. After this, they began their yearly fund raising event, the Mr. Leggz Contest, followed by their Mr. Valentino Contest held in February. They brought this year's activities to a close with their annual school-wide talent show.

A DIFFERENT SPIRIT

"The Civinettes proudly announce that Mr. Remi Watson is Mr. Football Offense and Eddie Tanner is Mr. Football Defense!" The Civinettes helped end the football season with the "Mr. Football Dance" which was a great success. The Civi's were busy all year. They painted signs during the football season, attended Civitan meetings each week, and helped with parties at Golden Hours, a school for the retarded. The Civinettes also sold fruitcake for Civitan, their parent club, helped at the Strawberry Festival in the Civitan booth, and they were involved in a carwash sponsored by Civitan. The Civinettes attended the Jr. Civitan Convention and helped with the Special Olympics. They really promoted spirit with the football players, since many of the Civi's are Cheerleaders. The Civinettes ended a great year with a formal banquet.

The Optimettes had a different image this year: a new school club sponsor, a new service club sponsor; and a new name. The school sponsor was Vesta Weirs, the service club sponsor was the Men's Optimist Club of Plant City; and the new name was the Optimettes, changed from the Debinettes.

The Optimettes were a big help in selling Christmas trees with the Optimist Club. The girls also repainted the trash can lids on the benches around the school.

This year they've sat together at all of the pep rallies, painted signs for the football games, and entered the "Deck the Halls" contest. The club combined efforts and talents with other members of the Humanities Department to produce "Godspell". The show was very successful and was said to be the best show in years. In the spring the club members participated in District and State competitions where they showed their talents in pantomime, acting, singing, and improvisations. A lot was accomplished this year, and the club is looking forward to many more years of active participation in and out of school.

WE ARE A 10

The J.G. Smith FFA chapter this year has participated in 14 judging contests. The contests began with forestry in October and ended with the vegetable and mechanics contests in April.

The J.G. Smith chapter is the only 10th grade chapter in Florida and must compete against grade levels 10-12 in other chapters. They have placed consistently high in all contests and activities this year.

All activities hopefully train the FFA members to be "just in our dealings, courteous to everyone, and above all, honest and fair in the game of life."

The Army Junior ROTC program has been developed out of a historical background of over 60 years of experience, to meet changing educational philosophies and concepts.

The JROTC program is a corporative effect on the part of the army and Plant City High School to provide our students opportunities for take development.

1981-82 JROTC CADET BATTALION

The Plant City High School JROTC Battalion began participating in school, community, and competitive activities at the opening of the 1981-82 school year, bringing credit and recognition to the school. The hard work set forth by all resulted in winning the Tampa Veterans' Day Parade trophy for "Best Marching Unit" in which the COLOR GUARD, DRILL TEAMS, and DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS participated. The male and female Color Guards participated in each of the pregame activities at all home football games. In addition, they participated in the Tampa Veterans' Day Parade and provided color presentations for the FBLA, the FHA conferences, and the University of Tampa Drill Meet. They also participated in the Columbia High School and University of Florida Drill Meets in the spring of 1981. The male and female drill teams worked extremely hard in preparing themselves for both basic and precision drill competition. The DRUM AND MAJOR CORPS has taken on an added importance to the JROTC program. The D&B has done much to build the morale and esprit de corps of the corps of cadets by performing and marching in Cadet Reviews, the Tampa Veterans' Day Parade and participating at the JROTC Parents' Association Meetings. The RIFLE TEAM consisted of 10 members, of which 6 were new to competitive shooting. The team participated in 7 shoulder to shoulder matches during the school year including a match at Fort Benning, Ga. where they competed against JROTC rifle teams from that area.

JAMES JONES

PROFESSIONAL MAN, FAMILY MAN

Principal James Jones' professionalism is reflected through his work and appearance. Mr. Jones has a masters degree, and he has worked his way up the ladder of success from a teacher to the principal of Plant City High School.

When asked what he hoped to accomplish as principal, he stated that he wanted, "No big change, but for Plant City High School to continue progressing with the curriculum and to stay relative to the times and needs of the students."

Our principal has raised a family of three and has two grandchildren. His family supports him in all aspects of his work. "A home is where the family is. Love and respect in private life make a home," explained James Jones.

Mr. Jones' desk at home reflects his professional attitude.

By assisting James Jones, working with teachers, and planning school events, the Assistant Principals helped the student body to make this year a productive one. Overseeing our classes, faculty, and activities were more of the jobs they performed. Lillian Boland, Asst. Principal for Curriculum, worked hand in hand with the faculty to organize a good learning atmosphere for the students. Dave Sanderson, Asst. Principal for Administration, assisted students in the planning of many school events. Kelly Williams, Asst. Principal for Property Control and Athletics, worked with the complicated problems of the sports activities and property control.

DEANS

KEEPING PCHS IN LINE

Helping to create and maintain a controlled atmosphere, the deans served as an essential part of our school.

The deans tried their hardest to keep things running smoothly. Registering students, supervising halls, buses, and the parking lots kept them on their feet at all times. They also took care of the absentee notes and the discipline, keeping in mind the interest and welfare of the students.

Although the deans were very busy this year, Mrs. Vines had time to say that she thought this was one of Plant City High School's better year.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

SPECIAL PEOPLE DOING SPECIAL SERVICES

The Exceptional Education classes are instructive in helping their students to be self-supporting individuals. The courses taught are regular classes such as English, Math, Social Studies, Drivers Education, and Work Experience. "Our abilities far outweigh our disabilities," said Kathy Heykens, the physically handicaps' teacher. The goal of the exceptional student programs are to provide, within the public school, equal opportunities.

Mary Smith creates a cheerful atmosphere when working.

CAFETERIA & CUSTODIANS

THEY HAVE SPIRIT

Through all the complaints and special requests made by students and staff to the lunchroom ladies, these cheerful dedicated workers continued to be congenial, efficient, and fun. The ladies generally showed a great willingness to be an important and helpful part of a large spirited school. The custodial staff, led by "Mr. B", moves, repairs, and cleans the litter and grime left by 2,600 people each day.

DRIVER EDUCATION

'Don't brake too suddenly." "Keep both hands on the wheel." These and many other driving tips are explained in the Driver Education course. This course introduces the driver to all of the safety rules, tips experienced drivers already know and allows them to test their knowledge under strict supervision. Among other things, they worked the intercom, typed letters, took phone messages, kept up current records of the grades, and paid school bills.

SOCIAL STUDIES

CRACKER COUNTRY

Under the leadership of department head, Lois Wheeler, the Social Studies department had many activities. Cracker Country, an authentic nineteenth century village, is created by Social Studies teachers and students at the Florida State Fairgrounds. Plant City High School sent ten students in 1980 and twenty-four students in 1981 to work with Cracker Country. Approximately thirty students were sent this year.

Other activities of the Social Studies department are different field trips and special speakers.

ENGLISH

READIN' N' RITIN

The English Department has had many changes this year and opened new classes such as Beginning Journalism, Detective Mystery, and Junior AP English.

Four new teachers were added: John Tomidy, Dale Rice, Marsha Mancini, and Katie Traylor who is an assistant to the English and Math Department.

English students were given the opportunity to be involved in the new Writing Enhancement Class. Department Head, Dick Evans, remarks, "The Writing Enhancement program looks good, and teachers had a better opportunity to help students on an individual basis than they have had in the past."

THE SURVIVAL OF THE CONSUMER

Home Economics is more than just "cooking" and "sewing". It prepares boys and girls for multi-facited roles as homemakers, consumers, parents, employers and employees.

Courses are provided which improve consumerism through an understanding of budgeting techniques, current market materials and their performance.

The department also features a "Little School" which includes 16 kids and 31 high school student teachers, who have completed a year of child care theory.

HUMANITIES

A CHANCE FOR CREATIVITY

"I feel that the study of the humanities will provide great opportunity for our students to learn an appreciation for beauty and to enrich their daily life through an understanding of the roll that the humanities has played in the cultures of the world," commented Gayle H. Law, department head.

The Humanities department teaches students to enjoy life and gain respect and confidence in the powers of their own minds. Humanities imparts a sense of tolerance, appreciation and understanding of different ideas.

Humanities is made up of a variety of classes, including art, band, foreign language and chorus. These specialized departments give students a chance to be competitive and creative.

MATH

COMPUTING FUTURES

The math department set high goals for the 81-82 school year. One goal was to increase the number of advanced placement coarse offerings. Another major goal was to cover the type of problems students have on the SSAT in order to decrease the number of students failing the test. Department head Rudy Arnao said, "The math department will also strengthen the basic math classes."

SCIENCE

ENDLESS VENTURE

Science is one of the most extensive fields of study. With such branches as biology, marine biology, ecology, physics, biochemistry, genetics and cytology, you can never fully comprehend each different field. Plant City High School this year had many teachers who tried to offer many courses. Courses taught here this school year were marine biology, ecology, physiology, physics and chemistry, just to name a few. And with such well informed and trained teachers you couldn't go wrong.

AGRICULTURE
KEEPS ON GROWING

Agriculture is often considered to be farming and nothing more. Although the objective of agriculture is to prepare students for ag related occupations, these people, through F.F.A., also develop leadership and character as well as training for useful citizenship and patriotism. Agriculture makes the world go around by improving methods of growing food, livestock, forestry, and horticulture.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

TRAINING TOMORROW'S LEADERS

Business students share a laugh before class.

The Business Education Department trains and prepares students for a career in the world of business. Students this year may major in one of three areas; clerical, secretarial, or accounting programs. The department is in the process of implementing a new program next school year for the student planning to major in Business Administration in college. Business students actively participate in the business club — Future Business Leaders of America — where they receive training in becoming "leaders of tomorrow."

NIGHT SCHOOL

A PCHS EXTENSION

Ralph Ruso, Night School Principal, has been involved in night school programs for eight years and thoroughly enjoys it. Ruso's job involves keeping things in order not only at night, but he is also at PCHS during the day.

Ruso explains that the purpose of night school is to let seniors who are lacking credits to catch up and adults who dropped out to earn a diploma. Night school is an extension to PCHS and is open to anyone.

When asked what his biggest accomplishment for night school students would be, Ruso replied, "It would be to make sure none of our students get discouraged and give up."

TONY ROPER

A FAMILIAR FACE

Deputy Tony Roper was the new resource officer. He served as resource officer at Tomlin Junior High and says, "Plant City students are much more mature. This is mainly because they have more responsibility, such as driving to school." Roper likes working with young people and finds his job satisfying and indeed, interesting. He would like to establish a trust between the students and himself and would also like for them to realize that he is there to help them, not to hurt or punish them.

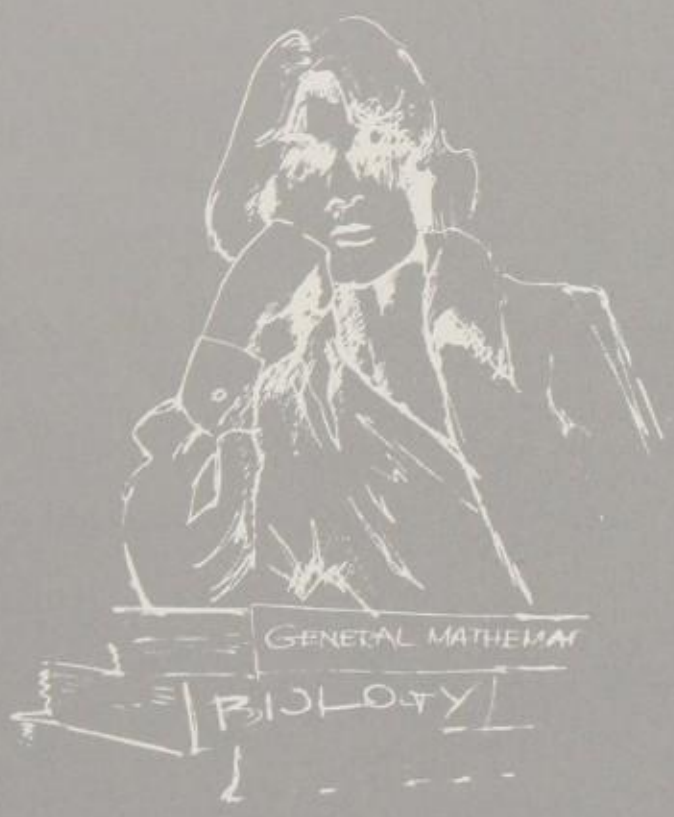
HUMAN RELATIONS

Do all students know how to cope with life's everyday pressures? What are they to do? Pam Glover can help. Students can find out about the program by being referred by teachers and counselors and some refer themselves. In fact, a great deal are self referred.

Glover's main concern this year, as any year is " . . . to be genuine and show empathy for the persons with whom I come in contact."

The beautious Pam Glover — Human Relations Specialist.

GUIDANCE SERVICES



Among the counselors at Plant City are Ruth Brown, department head; Gwen King, Robert Loeber, Marie Rumph, Sherrie Sikes, and Denny Boyce. The counselors work with students on credits and programming classes and they all enjoyed working with young people.

The guidance department offers many services other than counseling, such as speech and hearing therapy. "We also have a school psychologist, a social worker, two occupational specialists, alternate education program, and work evaluation", Brown replies.

The Class of '84 experienced their first year of high school life. They laughed, they cried, and above all they grew. They will look to this day and see it as a changing point in their life. '84 is yours! Make it count.

Your world turns so slowly
The days last forever
Each minute seems a year
Eighty four
Is so far off
The wait you surely fear.

So just keep working
Growing, learning
And from this path don't stray
That's my advice
To those who want
Tomorrow, YESTERDAY.

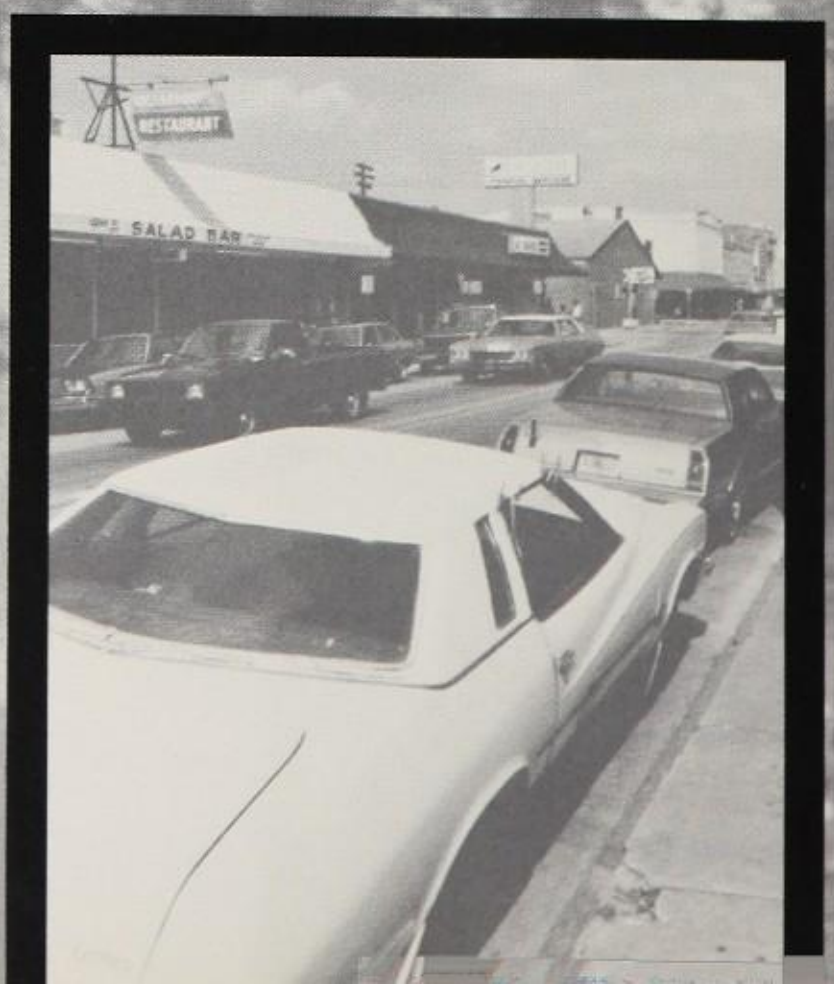
MEMORIES OF THE STADIUM

WHAT WE DO

FOR FUN

PLANT



RESTAURANT
SALAD BAR

MEMORIES

LAST FOREVER

'Twas the night of commencement and all through the dome
Not a senior was thinking of Greece or of Rome
They weren't writing essays or doing percents
All dressed up and grown up, sweet ladies and gents

Their moms in their dresses and dads in their suits
The band on the stage with trumpets and flutes
They'd all gathered round to view the great scene
A teacher, a friend, a counselor and dean

Just twelve years before they'd started their trek
Of poems to read, divisions to check
Some even learned to "parle" some "francais"
Now all seems behind on this glorious day

But despite this commencement they'll never stop learning
The brain's always working, the wheels ever turning
You learn as you live that the teacher is life
One learns from the good, one learns from the strife

Remember these phrases, you'll surely succeed
The mind is a garden, each idea a seed
So pursue all you dreams, don't ever refrain
There's no goal in life that you cannot attain

You've learned here, now leave here, and never forget
The lessons you've learned, the goals that you've set
And now it is time to say your goodbye,
To become proud alumni of Plant City High.

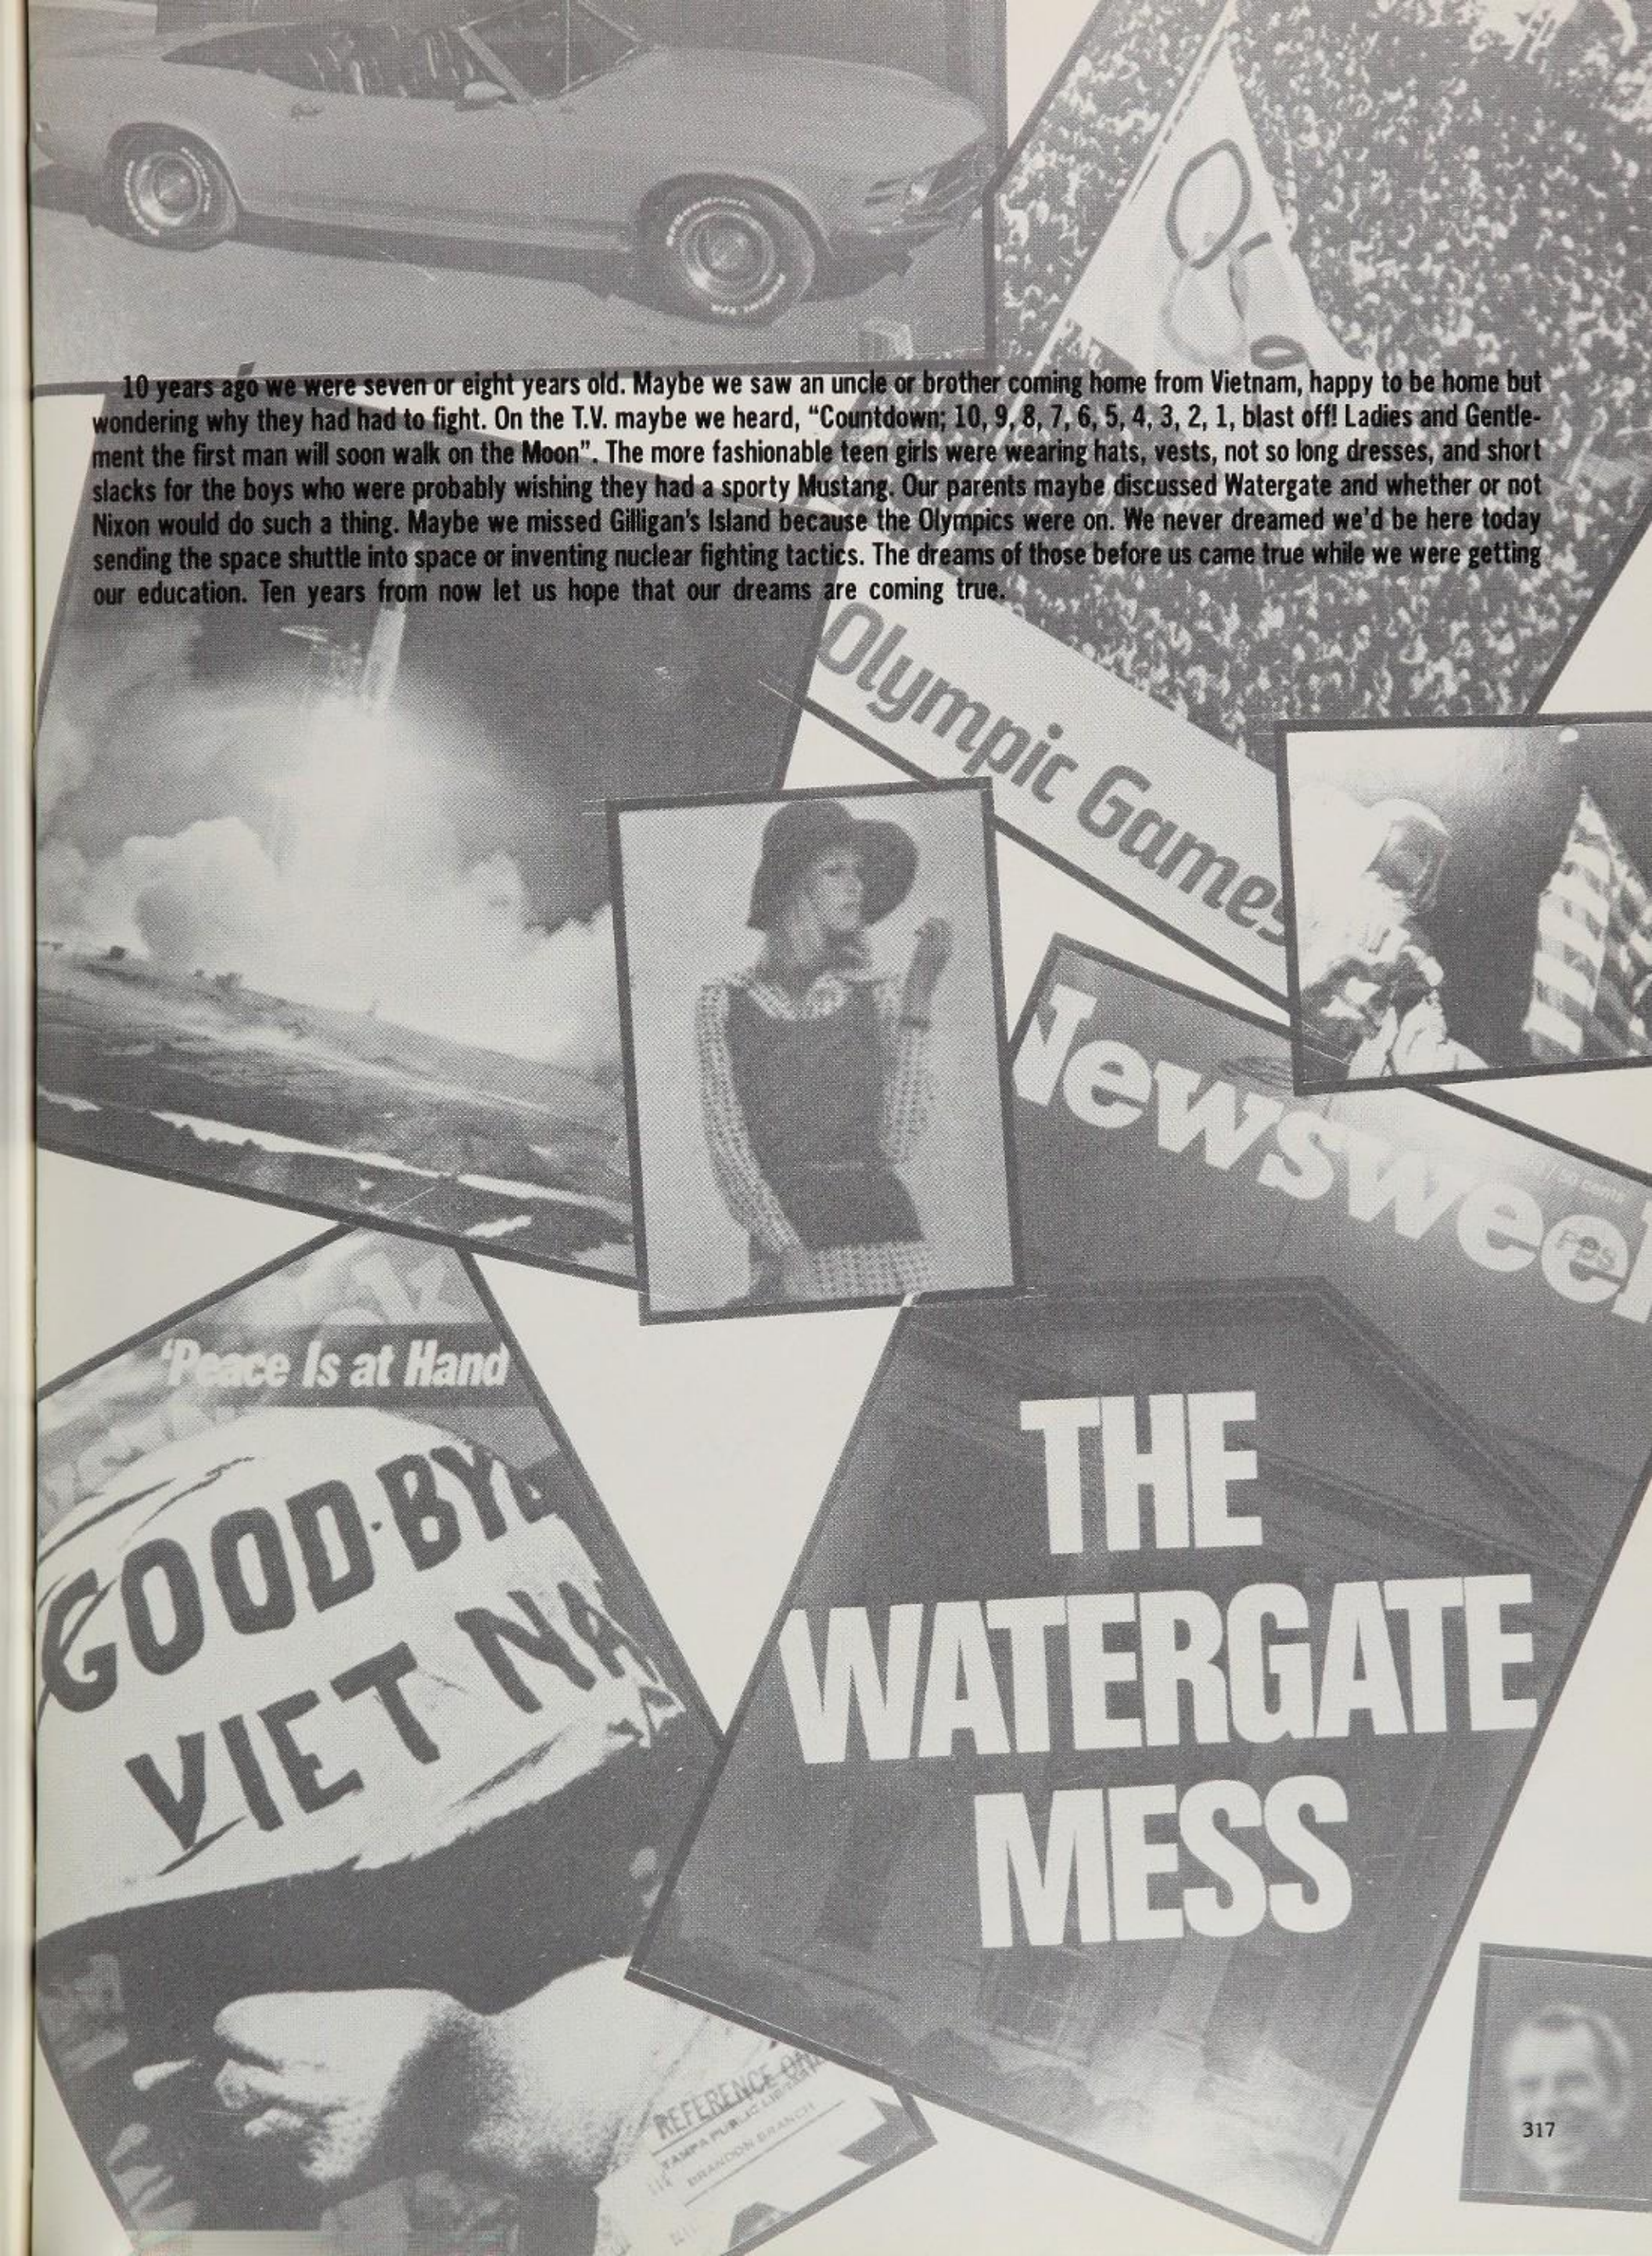
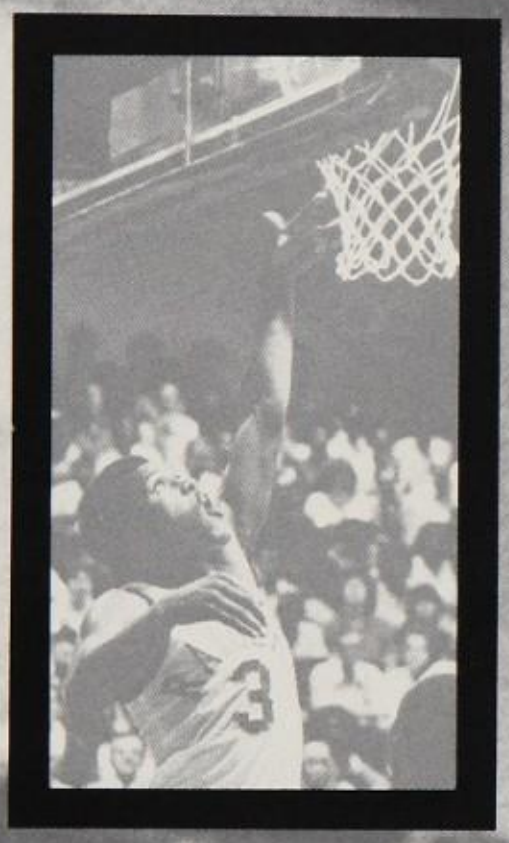
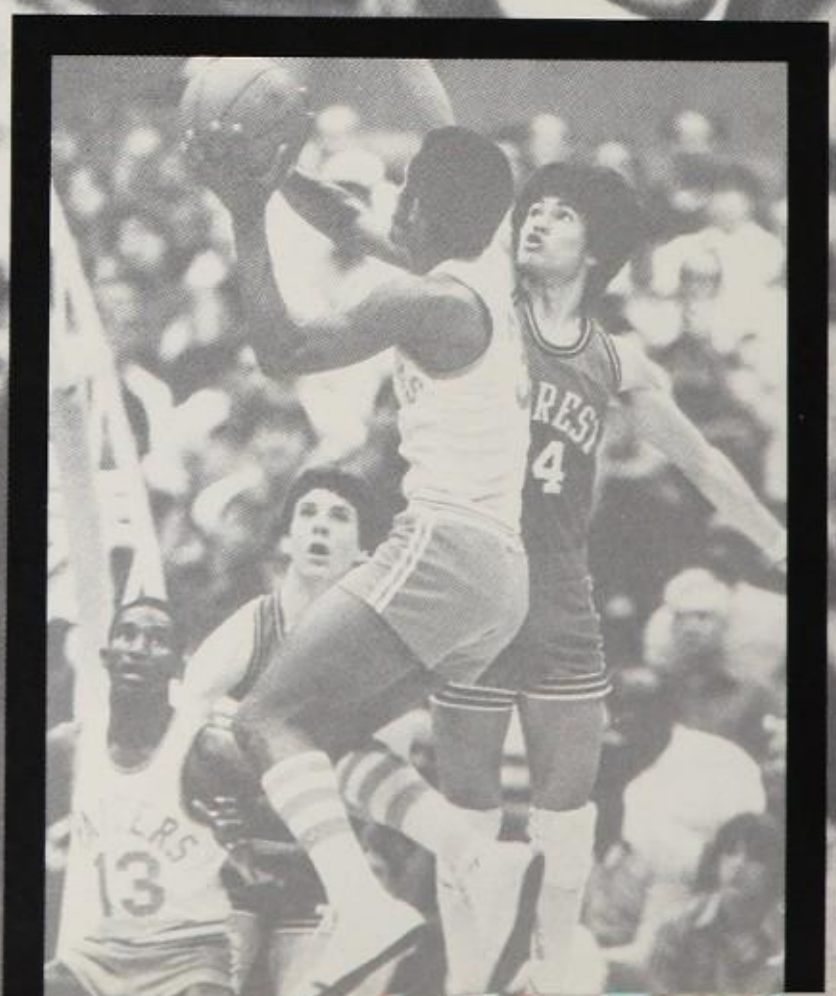
The foreign exchange students experienced a year of American life in Plant City. They all agree that there were good and bad points, but that overall they enjoyed their year. They added a foreign touch to Plant City.

10 years ago we were seven or eight years old. Maybe we saw an uncle or brother coming home from Vietnam, happy to be home but wondering why they had had to fight. On the T.V. maybe we heard, "Countdown; 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, blast off! Ladies and Gentlement the first man will soon walk on the Moon". The more fashionable teen girls were wearing hats, vests, not so long dresses, and short slacks for the boys who were probably wishing they had a sporty Mustang. Our parents maybe discussed Watergate and whether or not Nixon would do such a thing. Maybe we missed Gilligan's Island because the Olympics were on. We never dreamed we'd be here today sending the space shuttle into space or inventing nuclear fighting tactics. The dreams of those before us came true while we were getting our education. Ten years from now let us hope that our dreams are coming true.







A DREAM COME TRUE

Fantastic pictures for a FANTASTIC year of basketball. The Raiders worked endlessly at practice and games to become Florida's State Class 4A Champions — an honor for which everyone is very proud. The players on the team were especially exceptional. David Kelley and Greg Gillman received the Polk County players of the year award. Greg also received an Honorable Mention award. Horace Broadnax received the Hillsborough County Player of the Year award. Horace was also chosen to play on the All State Basketball team and the All South Basketball team. Broadnax was awarded a scholarship from Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. for his exceptional ability in basketball. The team as a whole was "GREAT". Their record was 24-5. The playoff games were as follows:

Leto	75-63
King	54-52
Brandon	65-60
Clearwater	63-59
Kathleen	74-73
Miami Jackson	70-69
Jacksonville Forrest	73-61
